

BUSINESS SKIES FREE OF CLOUDS, GARY DECLARES

Prospects Bright at Home, Abroad, Steel Head Tells Iron and Steel Institute.

THE FOUNDATION IS SOLID

Any Reaction That May Come Will be Due to Fault of Operators or Improper Government Interference; Many Prices "Outrageously High"

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Business prospects are unusually bright, both in the United States and abroad, E. H.
Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation, declared in an address before the American Iron & Steel Institute here today.

Although this is a time for courage, composure and caution, Mr.
Gary said, "the business skies are almost free of clouds. As always, there may be showers from time to time, but there is nothing in the atmosphere to indicate the approach of crisis storms."

"There should be a serious reaction or depression, which now seems improbable, it will be the fault of those who are connected with business operations, and not the fault of reason of official position improperly interfere and not because of any fundamental deficiencies."

"Without referring to individual cases or lines of general business, I believe in many instances prices have been outrageously high."

"The present tendency is toward a lower, more reasonable level, and I believe that every individual is perfectly willing that all others shall make reductions, the larger the better."

Now the general public, including particularly those who are either buyers or sellers, are in a large extent, in one way or another, bring about a fair and reasonable adjustment. The law of supply and demand will be the principal factor. The people of the United States have reason for confidence in the business future. They need not be discouraged nor impatient."

Speedy recovery of industry in France and Belgium from the ravages of war was predicted by Mr. Gary.

CALL THEM "PATRONESSES"

Unable to get together the names of enough Democrats to make a showing persons in charge of a meeting at the Soloson theatre this afternoon, the auxiliaries of the so-called Republican Independent Pro-League association of Pittsburg, resorted to wholesale use, without authority, of the names of "patronesses" of prominent Republican women—women whose stand on the principles of the Republican party is unquestioned and who are known to be opposed to the Wilson League of Nations. They appear along with the names of a number of Democratic women, presumably for the purpose of giving the gathering the aspect of a "social" function.

Perusal of the names served to indicate that the person who made up the list of "patronesses," a new "stunt" in things political, drew to some extent from the membership of the League of Women Voters with which a number of well-known Republican women associated themselves only to discover afterward that the league was being made the medium for dissemination of Democratic propaganda.

One of the women prominently identified with the league, Mrs. C. S. Nation of Uniontown—has been an active worker in the interest of the campaign of Governor Cox and is opposed to Senator Harding. She is also a warm advocate of the unamended covenant of the League of Nations as fostered by President Wilson and accepted by the Democratic party.

Many women whose names were thus used were indignant at the effort made to use them as sponsors for Democratic propaganda.

"I don't like it," frankly spoke Mrs.
A. A. Clarke of "patronesses." "You Second Ward. 'I'm a Republican and want it to be known that I'm not for the League of Nations as it stands,'" Mrs. Clarke is a member of the League of Women Voters who said she had used her name for the league, but it was to be a strictly non-partisan organization.

"Absolutely not," was the reply of Mrs. Charles Detwiler of Pennsville when asked if authority had been assured for the use of her name. "I'm a Republican and I'm not for the League of Nations."

Mrs. F. W. Wright stated: "I am a Republican and against the League of Nations. I strongly object to my name being used as a patroness by a newspaper without having the authority of the league."

"They have a lot of nerve," said Mrs. Edward Duggan. "I am a Republican and strongly against the League of Nations."

Mrs. C. W. Utter expressed herself in a somewhat similar manner. She is against the League of Nations and chairman of the Sixth ward.
Mrs. W. N. Leche is a Republican.
"I strongly object to any person using my name without given the authority to do so. Moreover I do not expect to attend the meeting," she said.

Mrs. Althea Atkinson also resents having her name used for the league "without her consent. She too is against the League of Nations.

Mrs. G. W. Gallagher was not at home but it was stated that she is an opponent of the league and "a Republican."

And so one might go on down the list.

Among the names is that of a Dunbar woman, Mrs. D. C. Eason, who has been dead for a year or more.

Use of names of persons not registered also has been discovered.

Miss Helen Grimes of Pittsburg, the chief speaker of the afternoon, is pointed by Pittsburg newspapers as an avowed Democrat. She showed her colors during a speaking tour in Ohio recently, according to the Pittsburg papers. The Grimes family is said to be strongly Democratic.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGNERS INVADE DAWSON

Meetings Are Held Also at Vanderbilt and Duckerson Halls.

NATIONS LEAGUE SCORED

The Republican campaign was carried into the Dawson community yesterday afternoon and last night by a speaking party composed of James J.
Keegan, J. Mark Glassburn, Mrs.
Francis Fairman, Mrs. Ella Adams and Mrs. Orla Clark, who appeared at rallies at Dawson, Vanderbolt and Dickerson Halls.

While they were expounding Republican principles there, Mrs. Horace Stidwell, Indiana leader, who has been working in Fayette county, invaded Greene county, receiving a most cordial reception.

Last night's meeting at Dawson was held in the banquet hall. The hall was crowded. Mrs. H. A. Buend, presiding, introduced Messrs. Keegan and Glassburn, the former from Evanson. In a fair and able manner Mr. Glassburn explained the ballot, while Mr. Keegan warned of the "vital need of a thorough study of the Wilson League of Nations, particularly Article X."

He emphasized the importance of "accepting nothing less than a league with safeguards against Monroe Doctrine," and an address established conclusively, from the applause that met his remarks, that women had practically satisfied themselves on Article X. The speaker urged the election of Senator Harding and Governor Cox, and an address established turning America to her normal self.

He appealed, he said, "especially for men who will put national interest ahead of self interest; men who will not force America into an un-American league, such as is represented in the Wilson league."

Mrs. Clark of the part mothers had played in the World War and for this reason how they would question the right of any party to force "their sons to do police duty in a foreign country," as would follow under the Wilson league. More than any others, the mothers of the war heroes would desire to "keep their boys for home."

She put America first and foremost, ever and always. She made a rousing "American" address, pleading earnestly for "the election of big men who will uphold the constitution; men who will preserve the sovereignty of the United States and for men who will ever hold in their hearts a warm place for The Stars and Stripes."

"You don't want a man for the President of the United States who will tell the folks of one district he is as dead as slavery and then go into another district and either bodge the issue or openly foster the wilderness hope of a return of John Barleycorn," she said.

Mrs. Fairman, in her address at Dawson, launched into a detailed discussion of "Article X."

"The Democrats tell you it's harmless and that's all they will say.
That's all they feel safe in saying. If they could but keep you from asking those embarrassing questions I

OVER $400 IN PRIZES FOR PARTICIPANTS IN PARADE IN CONNELLVILLE HALLOWE'EN

List Longest on Record in Celebrations and Not Yet Complete.

TO START AT 7 O'CLOCK

The biggest prize list ever compiled will be offered by the Bureau on Hallowe'en night as inducements to those in the parade in Connellsville to do their best in making up. The list contains prizes of more than $400.
While the list which follows is almost complete there will be a few additions before October 29, the night of the big event.

The list was drawn up last night at a meeting of the firemen.

Many out of town organizations will be here for the evening. The firemen urge everyone who possibly can to put on some kind of a makeup and turn out to make the parade a success.

The parade will start promptly at 7 o'clock in order that all musicians who will play at dances later in the evening can be in the line of march.
Judges will be stationed at six different places along the route and to win a prize it will be necessary to remain in the march over the entire route.

"HOW WELL YOU LOOK!"

When Your Blood Is Rich and Red People Notice Your Good Health.

PEPTO-MANGAN BUILDS HEALTH

Fade Face, Dull Eyes, Drooping Shoulders, Result from Clogged Blood.

If your blood is in bad shape it shows up in your looks and feeling.
When your blood is rich with red corpuscles your color is better, your lips are red, eyes wide open and bright, your good feeling shows in your actions.

Common sense will tell you that if weak, thin blood makes you look lifeless, it lowers your vitality. If your vitality is low you have little power to resist disease germs. Men, women and children with rich, red blood are able to fight off the germs which bring severe illness.

When you feel run down and weak, with no appetite and no ambition, take Pepto-Mangan for awhile. It is a great blood building tonic. You should begin to feel better within a few days.

Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer, because they have the same medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" should be on the package.—Adv.

Lower Prices Are Here

In one stroke Aaron's has accomplished what everybody for months and months has been hoping would come. It is the day of lower prices, the time for readjustment. Prices must come down so that business can proceed without the unnerving handicap of uncertainty. And somebody must start it.

That's what Aaron's has done. Without regard to the cost of the merchandise on our floors, we have made a sweeping reduction of 20% upon our entire stock of high quality Furniture, Rugs, Carpets, and Homefurnishings. We take the loss as our contribution toward reducing living costs.

Furniture like this 20% OFF

Pictured here are suggestions for almost everything in the home. Look at them. See their attractive designs and beautiful appearance. Then come in and examine their sturdy construction, their faultless finish. See for yourself that Aaron's is doing a really big thing in a big way in marking everything 20% off. And remember everything on our Six Big Floors and Basement consists of fresh stocks bought for our normal fall and winter business.

Every price-tag in our store remains exactly the same as it was before the 20% reduction went into effect. This is a bonafide reduction of our normally low fair prices which has back of it the Aaron's reputation and prestige of almost thirty years of honesty and square-dealing. So bring along your pencil and figure your own discount. Come prepared to see the greatest reduction in the price of quality furniture you have witnessed in many years.

Then you will realize what this reduction means. You will have some idea what Aaron's is doing for the people of Connellsville and vicinity.
We are sharing our profits with our customers to bring back normal times. We are giving you lower prices on the highest quality furniture for the simple reason that we want the good old times back again and are willing to do our part.
Could a reliable store do more for its customers?

We Guarantee This Reduction

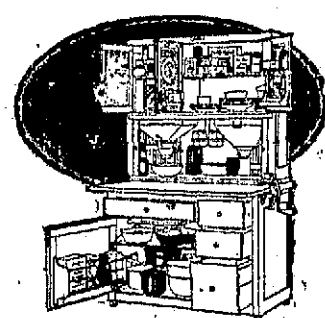

To hundreds of customers familiar with the stock of this great store, we need say but very little. The strength and responsibility of the Aaron organization enables us normally to sell our customers guaranteed furniture at prices 15% to 20% less than asked elsewhere for commonplace furniture.
On top of that is our present reduction of 20%. Actually you save from 35% to 40% by buying now—at Aaron's. And we guarantee the reductions as bonafide.

Only a Few Exceptions Made

The only exceptions in this reduction are Victrolas, Stoves, Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets and Whittall Rugs. New low prices have just been announced on the last two named articles. Our stove prices too will be found as low as our four store buying power can make them.

HOOSIER

REDUCED $7.50

Sit Comfortably and Restfully at Your Work

This reduction comes at a most favorable time for women of Connellsville and vicinity who have been considering the purchase of this time and labor saving cabinet.
We know that many women would want to take advantage of these new low prices so we secured a large shipment containing every Hoosier model.

Why Delay Any Longer

Nearly two million women throughout the country enjoy the satisfaction which comes so abundantly through the service rendered by the Hoosier. If you are not one of them, why?

All Rugs Reduced 20%

Your choice of our entire stock of Rugs, Carpets and Linoleums at a reduction of 20% makes this a very timely offering to those needing floor coverings. Our entire second floor is devoted exclusively to rugs and carpets and here your choice of patterns, styles and designs is practically unlimited—all room sizes being fully represented. No matter what your needs may be you can now supply them at Aaron's most economically.

HOW TO OVERCOME That Awful Reaction Caused by In- fluenza.

Influenza, grippe, or any severe sickness leaves the blood poor, thin and devitalized, and the system weak, run-down and in a nervous condition.
The one great remedy to create strength after sickness is Vinol, because it contains the tissue-building elements of fresh cod liver, aided by the blood, strength and vitality making elements of tonic iron, leaf peptone and glycerophosphates. It creates a hearty appetite, aids digestion, quickens the circulation, and every nerve organ and muscle of the body is soon filled with new strength, energy and vitality.

There are many people in this city who will tell you from personal experience what Vinol has done for them, say the Laughey Drug Co., our leading druggists.—Adv.

WESTMORELAND TEACHERS' INST. NOV. 29 TO DEC. 3

Program Has Not Yet Been Made Ready For Announcement

MANY TEACHERS NEEDED

GREENSBURG, Oct. 22.—The 56th annual teachers' institute of Westmoreland county will be held in the Greensburg high school auditorium, November 29 to December 3. School children of Westmoreland county will probably have a holiday the Friday following Thanksgiving and the institute comes the following week, the vacation will really be a 10 day affair. The customary Christmas vacation will be the period between Christmas and New Year, the week that was observed as the Christmas holidays last year. Thirty vacancies remain unfilled in the county's teaching force and County Superintendent Shaw sees no hope ahead for the children for whom he has so far been unable to supply teachers. Superintendent Shaw estimated that at least 1,000 children in Westmoreland county are without school privileges at the present time, owing to the appalling scarcity of teachers.

The next session of the Westmoreland County Teachers' association will be held November 20, in Greensburg. The following sessions of the year will be held in February and in April.

Saturday sessions in Elgin, Pa. are largely attended. The county association has a membership of approximately 1,100. The points teachers number 1,750.

Miss Eunice Dickinson, Elgin, Pa. Miss Laura Ross, South Greensburg. Miss Emma Thompson, Mount Pleasant township. Miss Irma Peterson, Penn township. Miss Belle McClelland, Latrobe. Miss Edna Ketter, Latrobe. C. S. Miller, Latrobe. Miss Harriet Smith, Greensburg. and Don C. Longenecker, Jeannette, were the teachers who participated in the program. The address of the day was delivered by Dr. John C. Achenson of Pittsburgh, who spoke on "America in the New Age." Dr. Achenson's address aroused much favorable comment.

BEEHIVE COKE MADE GAIN OF 9.6 PER CENT WEEK OF OCTOBER 9

Rapid Increase in Total for the Year to Date Compared With Last When the Steel Strike Was on.

Production of beehive coke during the week ended October 9, recovered from the depression of the preceding week, says the report of the United States Geological Survey compiled by F. C. Tryon, geologist in charge of coal and coke statistics. The total output is estimated on the basis of shipments over the principal coke-carrying roads at 412,000 tons, an increase over the week before of 36,000 tons, or 9.6 per cent. This was the largest in any week since September 11. In the Connellsville region, as reported by The Courier, the output increased from 156,487 to 212,189 tons. The cumulative output since the beginning of the year now stands at 16,482,000 tons, and continues to gain rapidly over the corresponding period of 1919. A year ago, for example, when the demand for coke was curtailed by the steel strike, the weekly production was only 305,000 tons. Production by states, compared with the corresponding week of 1919, was as follows:

	1919	1920
Pennsylvania	11,850	11,850

MOTOR DRIVER DOES NOT HAVE RIGHT OF WAY

Regulations Governing Automobiles Clearly Outlined By Highway Dept.

Special to The Courier.
HARRISBURG, Oct. 22—There are no streets for highways in the state of Pennsylvania on which because of the traffic impeding of the thoroughfare the driver of an automobile has the right-of-way.
On every street, alley, state highway, county road, or township thoroughfare, when two vehicles approach an intersection at the same time the vehicle approaching from the right shall have the right-of-way.
There are no "priority" thoroughfares in Pennsylvania. The driver of a vehicle on Broad street, Philadelphia; Fifth avenue, New York; Market street, Harrisburg; Main street, Johnstown; Crawford avenue, Conshohocken, or any other important Pennsylvania street, and the driver on the Lincoln highway, William Penn highway, or other main thoroughfares, does not have the right-of-way simply because of his presence on an important traffic artery.
At all times, at every intersection of two public highways, the vehicle approaching from the right has the right-of-way.
The State Highway Department today issued a statement calling particular attention to Section 25 of the automobile law approved by Governor Sproul, June 30, 1929. This section contains the following provision:
"Every operator of a motor vehicle shall, at all times, keep as close as possible to the right-hand side of the highway, allowing other vehicles free passage to the left; and no operator of a motor vehicle shall allow such vehicle to stand in the center of the highway or so as to obstruct or interfere with any other vehicle thereon."
At the intersection of public highways, the operator of a motor vehicle shall keep the right of the intersection of the centers of such highways when turning to the right and shall pass to the right of such intersection before turning to the left.
When two vehicles approach the intersection of two public highways at the same time, the vehicle approaching from the right shall have the right-of-way.

CATARHAR DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrh Deafness or head and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get one ounce of Earsol (double strength), and add to it one-fourth pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.
This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head, noise, clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dripping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrh Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—ADV.

Doctor Cupid

That love sometimes cures disease is a fact that has been called to the attention of the public by a prominent physician. Love is not, however, the cure for all ills. Many a woman is nervous and irritable, feels dragged down and worn out for no reason that she can think of.
Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives new life and strength to weak, worn-out, run-down women. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, and sick women well. It is now sold by all druggists in the United States in tablets as well as in liquid form.
BRADFORD, PA.: "Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an excellent tonic for women. Some time ago I became all run-down, weak and nervous. Was miserable when I began taking 'Favorite Prescription' and 'care bottles' completely broke me up and made me feel like a different person. It so improved my nervous system that I can give it the very highest praise. It was the means of improving my health in every way."—Mrs. J. E. WOOD, GARD, 25 York Street.

Not Monkey Glands!

Something New! Sheep and Cattle Gland Substitutes in Tablet Form Combined With Iron.

Quite often recently newspapers have reported cases of monkey gland treatment. But now it seems that another method of treating run-down conditions is being used. Instead of monkey glands, people are now using gland extracts from sheep and cattle. These extracts are combined with iron and other tonic ingredients and are made in the form of a tablet.

The reason for the benefits secured by gland extracts, according to those who have given them subject close study, is that our body glands govern the building-up process of the billions of cells in our bodies. When we are easily fatigued, run-down, thin, anemic and listless, it would appear that our glands may not be secreting the proper amount of "hormones," which the new tablets attempt to supply.

This tablet containing gland extracts combined with iron and other ingredients has been formulated under the supervision of the Glandex Company, Inc., 311 West 28th Street, New York, under the name of Glandex Compound and Glandex Tablets.

Note: $1.00 will be paid by the Glandex Company, Inc. to anyone proving that Glandex Compound does not contain genuine glandular extract. Glandex Compound is a trademark of the Glandex Company, Inc., 311 West 28th Street, New York, N. Y.

"THE PRICE OF REDEMPTION." A big production, with Bert Lytell in the leading role, is being presented today and will also be the attraction tomorrow.

The story of the Lytell picture is that of Leigh Dering, a young English officer, who saves the garrison at Fort Akbar, India, from extermination during a battle with the British. He is acclaimed a hero. A year later in London he marries a wealthy girl, but it is a loveless match. Thus, disillusioned and turned to drink, he at length assumes the guilt of another's wrong and leaves London for India with the brand of a murderer upon his forehead. In India he meets the girl who has become a prostitute and drug addict. He saves her from a brothel from which he only emerges after death.

It is in this state that his wife, now married to another, finds him. He is then journeying to India, where he is to be executed for the crime of murder. He is then rescued by a friend and is able to return to his home and his family. The picture is a masterpiece of dramatic storytelling, with a powerful and moving performance by Bert Lytell. It is a story of redemption, of a man who has lost everything and who must find a way to win it back. THE GREAT SHADOW

By A. CONAN DOYLE

Author of The Adventure of Sherlock Holmes

CHAPTER XV.

The End of It.

"A—now I have very nearly come to the end of it all, and precious glad I shall be to find myself there, for I begin to think that it would give me some work for the long summer evenings, but as I went on I awakened a thousand sleeping sorrows and half-forgotten griefs, and my soul felt as if it were off your feet and down in a hole, and can struggle out as best you can."

"We buried Jim and De Lissac with four hundred and thirty-one others of the French Guard and our own light infantry in a single trench. Ah, if you could see a brave man as you saw a dead one, there should be a fine crop of heroes coming up there some day! Then we left the bloody battlefield behind us forever, and with our husbands we marched on over the French border on our way to Paris.

I had always been brought up during all these years to look upon the French as very evil folk, and as we only heard of them in connection with fighting and slaughtering by land and by sea, it was natural enough to think that they were vicious by nature and ill to meet with. But then, after all, they had only heard of us in just the same fashion, and so, no doubt, they had just the same idea of us. But when we came to go through their country and to see their bonny little steadings, and the ducal, quiet folk at work in the fields, and the women knitting by the roadside, and the old granny with a big white smock smacking the baby to teach it manners, it was all so homelike that I could not think why it was that we had been fearing and hating these good people for so long. But I suppose that, in truth, it was really the man who was over them that we hated, and now that he was gone, my bitter animosity was cleared from the land, all was brightness once more.

We jogged along happily enough through the loveliest country that ever I set my eyes on, until we came to the great city, where we thought that there would be a battle, for there were so many folk in it that it only one in twenty comes out, would make a fine army. But by that time they had seen that it was a pity to spoil the whole country just for the sake of one man, and so they had told him that he must shift for himself in the future. The next we heard was that he had surrendered to the British, and that the gates of Paris were open to us, which was very good news to me, for I could get along very well just now on the one battle that I had had.

But, there were plenty of folk in Paris now who loved Bonaparte, and that was natural when you think of the glory that he had brought them, and how he had never asked his army to go where he would not go himself.

They had stern enough faces, for us, I can tell you, when we marched in, and we of Adams' brigade were the very first who set foot in the city. We passed over a bridge which they call Neully, which is easier to walk than to say, and then through a fine park, the Bois de Boulogne, and so into the Champs d'Elysees. There we bivouacked, and pretty soon the streets were so full of Prussians and English that it became more like a camp than a city.

The very first time that I could get away I went with Rob Stewart, of my company—for we were only allowed to go about in couples—to the Rue Miromesnil. Rob waited in the hall, and I was shown upstairs, and as I put my foot over the rail there was Cousin Edie, just the same as ever, staring at me with those wild eyes of hers. For a moment she did not recognize me, but when she did she just took three steps forward and sprang at me with her two arms round my neck.

"Oh, my dear old Jack!" she cried, "how fine you look in a red coat!" "Yes, I am a soldier now, Edie," said I, very stiffly, for as I looked at her pretty face I seemed to see behind it that other face which had looked up to the morning sky on the Belgian battle field.

"Fancy that!" she cried. "What are you then, Jack? A general? A captain?"

"No, I am a private."

"What! Not one of the common people who carry guns?"

"Yes, I carry a gun."

"Oh, that is not nearly so interesting," said she, and she went back to the sofa from which she had risen. It was a wonderful room, all silk and velvet and shiny things, and I felt inclined to go back to give my boots another rub. As Edie sat down again I saw that she was all in black, and so I knew that she had heard of De Lissac's death.

said I, "for I am a clumsy hand at breaking things. He said that you were to keep whatever was in the boxes, and that Antoine had the keys."

"Thank you, Jack, thank you," said she. "It was like your kindness to bring the message. I heard of it nearly a week ago. I was mad for the time—quite mad. I shall wear mourning all my days, although you can see what a fright it makes me look. Ah, I shall never get over it. I shall take the veil and die in convent."

"If you please, madam," said a maid, looking in, "the Count de Reton wishes to see you."

"My dear Jack," said Edie, jumping up, "this is very important. I am so sorry to cut our chat short, but I am sure that you will come to see me again, will you not, when I am less desolate. And would you mind going out by the side door instead of the main one? Thank you, you dear old Jack; you were always such a good boy, and did exactly what you were told."

And that was the last I was over to see of Cousin Edie. She stood in the sunlight with the old challenge in her eyes and flush of her teeth, and so I shall always remember her, shining and unstable like a drop of quicksilver. As I joined my comrades in the street below I saw a fine carriage and pair at the door, and I knew that she had asked me to slip out so that her grand new friends might never know what common people she had been associated with in her childhood. She had never asked for Jim, nor for my father, and now, who had been so kind to her. Well, it was just her way, and she could no more help it than a rabbit can help wagging its ear, and yet it made me heavy-hearted to think of it. Two months later I heard that she had married this same Count de Reton, and who died in child-bed a year or two later.

And as for us, our work was done, for the great shadow had been cleared away from Europe, and should no longer be thrown across the breadth of the lands, over peaceful farms and little villages, darkening the lives which should have been so happy. I came back to Connettsville after I had bought my discharge. When my father died, I took over the sheep farm, and married Lucy Deane of Berwick, and have brought up seven children, who are all taller than their father, and take mighty good care that he shall not forget it. But in the quiet, peaceful days that pass now, each as like the other as so many Scotch thistles, I can hardly get the young folks to believe that even here we have had our romance, when Jim and I went a-wooing, and the man with the cat's whiskers came up from the sea.
